

- Mechanical tools that are continuously modified to meet the requirements of the information models generated by the human processing – Mechanical Capital Development.

Building upon the NCD foundation, these scientists and their colleagues have demonstrated the power of Freedom-Building:

- CCD' - Cultural Capital Development,
- ECD - Economic Capital Development,
- GCD - Governance Capital Development.

In other words, The New Capital Development Components converge upon The Freedom Functions in exquisitely engineered organic-processing architecture. To support their conclusions, Carkhuff and Berenson provide an economic database that indicates that the dimensions of NCD account for the preponderance of economic growth.

In short, Carkhuff and Berenson have defined change in terms of future requirements and values and then have positioned us to maximize meeting both at the highest levels. For Americans, this is a natural evolution, a further advancement for a people who were the “experiment” for the world society.

The Declaration of Interdependence

The American Revolution was a War of Independence. It was fought to free the colonies of the pernicious and coercive burdens imposed upon it by the exclusive mentality of the mother country.

The Global Revolution is a War of Interdependence. It is being fought to free world citizenry of the pernicious and coercive burdens of the exclusive mentality of the old probabilistic ways of thinking.

For example, the central theme of the old capitalism is “It takes money to make money!” Based upon this theme, America has built awesome industrial machinery capable of producing a seemingly endless array of goods and services. In the process, it has seen its people as extensions of that great machinery – whether on the assembly line or in the executive suite. They have performed “all that money has asked of them” and, increasingly, they have come up “empty” – devoid of any new ideas, deficit in new sources of growth.

dissatisfied with the levels of remuneration on their own terms. In short, they have concluded: "We can't get there from here anymore – we can't make money by simply investing money!"

In this context, the central theme of the entrepreneurially driven, free-enterprise global marketplace is this: "It takes New Capital Development or NCD, to create wealth."

What was needed were the technologies to produce these potentially invaluable ingredients. Carkhuff and Berenson have those technologies – the first systematic technologies that constitute the sources of NCD and, in turn, The Freedom Functions. Indeed, their vision of The Freedom Doctrine is based upon these capital resources.

The Freedom Doctrine is really an extension of The Continuing American Revolution. Just as the Constitution created the nation and presented us with an instrument of change to share its power with its citizens politically, so will The Freedom Doctrine create and extend the concept of wealth and power and their distribution to all contributors. Just as the Bill of Rights and Civil Rights freed American citizens physically and emotionally to make their contributions, so will The Freedom Doctrine free Global Citizens intellectually and interdependently to actualize their contributions. Viewing the human mind as the rarest of all materials, The Freedom Doctrine enables each person to become the source of new and heretofore untold wealth.

To be sure, Carkhuff and Berenson's vision of The Freedom Doctrine is accompanied by The New Bill of Rights:

- The rights of all citizens to be empowered to contribute their creative ideas to the new culture;
- The rights of all citizens to process information and make decisions for productive economic and cultural purposes;
- The rights of all citizens to think themselves out of their jobs, trusting that their entrepreneurial initiative will generate new roles and challenges.

There is also The New Bill of Rights for corporations:

- The right to capitalize upon thinking as the source of economic value;
- The right to benefit from new ideational breakthroughs by employees;
- The right to trust that investments in NCD will be dedicated to economic as well as cultural benefits.

Like the American War of Independence, then, The New Global Revolution will begin with the inspiration, commitment, and creative thinking of a few leaders who will transform the vision into a mission. Soon the armies of thinkers from the homes and communities, schools and governments, businesses and marketplaces, economies and cultures, will provide the motivation, perspiration, and, above all, possibilities thinking to accomplish the mission.

Make no mistake about it! The Freedom Doctrine is The New Global Revolution! Ultimately, it requires a Declaration of Interdependence: that every person is interdependent with every other person – production and delivery personnel along with managers, executives, and policymakers; that every organization is interdependent with every other organization – home, school, and government as well as business, that every community and culture is interdependent with every other – producers and consumers alike in the commerce of towns, cities, regions, states, and nations.

We are the army of Freedom-Builders. We are at war to free ourselves of the restrictive burdens of our old cultures. Our weapons are our thinking skills. Our destiny is in our minds!

Some Amendments

There are those who believe that Freedom-Building is merely a reaction to terrorism. This could not be further from the truth.

We were on the Freedom-Building course on September 10, 2001. We will continue on this course. Freedom-Building is an affirmation of the human spirit. Global Freedom is already in the minds and hearts and souls of civilized people everywhere.

Indeed, Global Freedom is the mission of The Freedom Doctrine that is called America: to help build a healthy and prosperous world as we have built our own nation and its people.

To be sure, just as it was in our spiritual legacy, so it is now in our spiritual destiny to be helpers and healers! To help create a global vision of both The Spirit and Science of Freedom!

To sum, intentionality is the guiding philosophy of Carkhuff and Berenson and The New Science of Possibilities and the sciences and technologies that it generates: to go by intentionality to places we have never been and build by dimensionality our homes and communities and cultures and nations on this spacecraft we lovingly call Planet Earth.

With apologies to Robert Browning:

Ah, but a nation's grasp must achieve its reach, or what's our brainpower for?
